

Amendments to the Abstract:

Add the following Abstract:

ABSTRACT

[0069] A device for introducing a plurality of solid pharmaceutical products selected from the group consisting of tablets, two-part capsules, sugar-coated pills, gelatin capsules, and oblongs along a path into blister packs includes a distributing device having a roll frame, and at least one pair of first and second rolls mounted on the roll frame and rotatable in opposite directions, the first and second rolls having respective non-cylindrical sections facing one another and spaced apart so as to define a gap configured to provide a passage for each individual pharmaceutical product, wherein the first and second rolls rotate in opposite directions.